

Phnom Penh, 22 April 2011
H.E. M. Naito Osato
President of the United Nations
Security Council (UNSC)
New York

Excellency,

I would like to draw your kind attention to the fresh armed attack by Thailand against Cambodia, as follows:

Indeed, 22 April 2011, at 06:00, Thailand carried a large-scale attack with great types of weapons, including 101 mm, 106 mm and 122 mm rockets, against Cambodia in the area of TA MOUJ and TA KREBAY (Tangkha) border area. Cambodia remains. The rockets fell as far as 22 km inside Cambodia, at Koh Mear where 11 Thai Mountain Troopers, while 200 soldiers entered deep into Cambodia's territory. Cambodia has suffered many casualties during this attack.

This fresh act of aggression not only violates all legal instruments in regard to any armed conflict of January 2011 in the former UNSC Resolution. The Cambodian State team includes 1000, but also the UNCF from November until February 2011 and the Secretary of the Chairman of ASEAN following the National Meeting of ASEAN Foreign Ministers on 22 February 2011, calling for a permanent ceasefire.

My I recall that in December in accordance with the invitation of Cambodia's EMERGE OF SPECIAL SPECIAL on the World Heritage List in July 2008 Thailand attacked Cambodia four times, namely on 12 July 2008, 11 October 2008, 4 April 2009 and 17 February 2011 during which these incidents were also used by Thailand as evidence in the Case Myanmar Custom (CM) until April 2011.

The fresh military attack takes place in spite of serious repeated calls by Indonesia, Chair of ASEAN, supported by the UNCF to negotiate a permanent ceasefire and a peaceful solution, after Thailand's large-scale offensive against Cambodia has followed.

The deliberate act of aggression explains why Thailand has not been allowed to accept the successive drafts of the Terms of Reference (TOR), prepared by the ASEAN Chair for the deployment of the Indonesian Observer to monitor the commitment of both sides to avoid further armed clashes, while Cambodia has already given an immediate positive response for the fourth time to the draft TOR after its revision to accommodate Thailand's position.

This most recent aggression against Cambodia also confirms the reason behind Thailand's insistence on resolving the conflict "bilaterally", which is a pretext for using its huge and massive more sophisticated armed forces against Cambodia.

Cambodia has so far exercised its maximum restraint and demonstrated its goodwill in order to maintain an atmosphere favorable for a peaceful settlement. However, it reserves the right to self-defence in the face of such deliberate acts of aggression.

Considering the repeated latest aggression by Thailand, I would highly appreciate it if Your Excellency could circulate this letter to all members of the United Nations Security Council for an official document.

Please accept, Excellency, the assurances of my highest consideration and respect.

Hor Namhong
